

March

2
0
1
7

KUKUI, HAWAII, HAD THE RAINIEST YEAR EVER RECORDED IN 1982 WITH 704.83 INCHES OF RAIN. THERE MUST HAVE BEEN NONSTOP RAINCLOUDS IN THE SKY. I SHOULD HAVE BEEN THERE! ONE OF THE DERIVED PRODUCTS FROM GOES-R IS AN ESTIMATE OF THE RAINFALL.

Image Credit: Lindsay Carranza (CC BY-NC-ND 2.0)

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
			1	2	3	4 2010: Launch of the GOES-15 weather satellite, the last in the GOES-N series.
5	6	7	8 1956: A whopping 367 inches of snow is measured on the ground at Mount Rainier Paradise Ranger Station in Washington.	9	10	11
12 1989: Sun causes a severe geomagnetic storm, allowing the northern lights to be viewed as far south as Florida and Cuba.	13	14	15	16	17	18
19	20 Vernal Equinox (spring begins)	21	22	23	24 1948: The second tornado in less than a week hits Tinker AFB, OK. It is the first officially forecasted tornado ever.	25
26	27	28	29	30	31

SCIJINKS.GOV

